

HOMES & ANTIQUES

February 2019

Dark, moody walls that mirror a clear night sky make for a potent backdrop in an elegant living room or cosy snug.

LOOK TO THE STARS

*Create interiors that are out of this world.
Our heavenly host of ideas marry scientific stargazing tools with contemporary accessories*

STYLING JAINE BEVAN PHOTOGRAPHS PHILIP SOWELS

LEFT

The gold stars pop against the blue in this enchanting wallpaper. You can afford to keep accessories and furnishings to a minimum when you have standout pieces such as the elaborate ceiling light and iconic Egg chair.

Wall papered in Cole & Son Whimsical Stars wallpaper in Midnight Blue, £80 per roll, Wallpaper Direct. The Solar System ceiling light, £5,000, Cubbit Antiques. Egg chair in Elegance leather, £11,910, The Conran Shop. Velvet fringe cushion, £39, Mon Pote. All wool vintage Beni Ourain rug, £275, Smuk. Astronomy books, from £2 when bulk buying, Bookbarn International. Constellation mug, £14, Lollipop Designs. Brass plant stand, from £50, Mon Pote.

RIGHT

Play with shape and scale for a striking arrangement that's pleasing to the eye as well as the mind.

Wall painted as before. Tubular display shelves, £2,400, Lorfords. Maps (from left), £795 & £295, The Map House. French 1970s obelisks, £850 for three, Brownrigg. 18th-century carved figure of Atlas, £1,200, Lorfords. Print, £275, The Map House. Astronomy books, from £2 when bulk buying, Bookbarn International. Sextant, £950, Vavasseur Antiques. Globe, £190, The Ark Angel. Binoculars, £40, Brownrigg. Mini vintage Azizal rug from The Atlas Mountains, £140, Smuk.

